No water for paddy, sugarcane
Water only for drinking, livestock

CM makes announcement after meeting
Mandya elected representatives in Bengaluru

Bengaluru, Aug. 9 (KMS& BCT)- Even as farmers along the Cauvery basin in Kodagu, Mandya and Mysuru are up in arms against the State Government demanding water for their kharif crops, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah has ruled out Cauvery water to grow paddy and sugarcane. "This year, water will not be released for irrigating paddy and sugarcane fields," he said.

The CM was addressing reporters after a meeting with elected representatives from Mandya at 'Krishna', his Home Office in Bengaluru this morning. "Water will be released to all canals from tomorrow to fill up lakes and ponds for drinking purposes and to feed the livestock," the CM said and added that water will be released to all canals of Krishna Raja Sagar, Kabini, Hemavathi and Harangi Reservoirs to fill up lakes and ponds. Appealing farmers not to cultivate paddy and sugarcane, Siddharamaiah has asked them to grow only less water-intensive crops like ragi and jowar.

Siddharamaiah added that all the elected representatives had agreed to the government decision. One more meeting will be held on Aug. 14 where elected representatives from all parties from Hassan, Mandya and Mysuru will participate.

Today's meeting was attended by Agriculture Minister Krishna Bhyregowda, Water Resources Minister M.B. Patil, Mandya District Minister M. Krishnappa, MLAs K.S. Puttannaiah, Cheluvarayaswamy, Ramesh Babu Bandisiddegowda, Narendraswamy, M.H. Ambareesh and MP C.S. Puttaraju.

Attiring attractively

If somebody writes a detailed account of the origins and the current scenario of humans attiring themselves, it should make a highly enjoyable as well as informative read. Believers may favour visualising the Biblical characters Adam and Eve roaming about in the Garden of Eden totally unattired, until the moment of biting the forbidden fruit. Covering the private parts of the body with grass or broad leaves and subsequently using the hides of hunted animals in the jungles as their attire for protection from extreme cold during winter may pass scrutiny of the anthropologists as the initial landmark happenings over hundreds of centuries, even before making fabrics with cotton yarn silk and wool or fur of domesticated animals traced to ancient times when historians began to record the changes in the materials and designs of dresses until our times, witnessing emergence of synthetics mimicking conventional dress materials, including leather.

India's countless temple sites constitute an enduring repository of excellently carved sculptures displaying more prominently jewellery adorned by the idols than their attire, a feature that the paintings don't present. Knowledgeable guides at the Belur-based Channakeshava temple are known to have drawn the attention of visitors to that shrine with details of not only jewellery but also hairstyles as well as attires including undergarments worn by the land's ancient generations.

Choice of the fabric, design and also style of wearing, by long traditional practices, has its part in revealing the socio-cultural profile of the wearer, ranging from royalty to common people, affluent members of society to the poor sections, scholarly persons to the unlettered, urban to the rural, western to the orient and so on. Most of these differences and diversities seem to have shrunk, given the emergence of unisex dresses, availability of attires at tempting price tags and quick adoption of changing fashions by wearers in virtually the entire section of society. However, similar to the expression "Money is not everything," one may as well say "Dress is not everything" in creating impressions with the help of one's attire and sustaining inter-personal relationships. Pleasing demeanour at one end and distasteful facial expression at the other, adds to or takes away the influence of attire, however glamorous.

Having written about attire and public conduct of individuals, one is prompted to bestow some thought on smile overriding attire. A just published report originating from a western University that "Smile makes you look old," in fact "Older than if you wear a poker face" is bound to invite laughter, if not wonder. It is approximately said that you are never fully (or attractively) attired until you wear a smile.

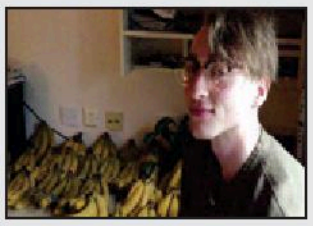
"Unmeltable" ice-cream!

Tokyo: Researchers at the Biotherapy Development Research Centre Co. in Kanazawa, Japan, have come with a 100%-natural solution to the age-old problem of melting ice-cream. By using polyphenol found in strawberry, they can keep a popsicle from melting for hours, on a hot summer day.

Believe it or not, the secret ingredient for "unmeltable" ice-cream was discovered by mistake. The Kanazawa Research Center had asked a local pastry chef to create new confectionery using strawberry polyphenol, in an attempt to find new uses for strawberries not good enough to be sold as fresh fruit. However, the chef later reported that "dairy cream solidified instantly when strawberry polyphenol was added."

Polyphenol liquid has properties to make it difficult for water and oil to separate," said Tomihisa Ota, a Professor at Kanazawa University, who helped develop the innovative treat. "So a popsicle containing it will be able to retain the original shape of the cream for a longer time than usual, and be hard to melt."

"Fruitarian" diet



Bristol: 21-year-old Dane Nash, from Bristol, UK, gets around 80% of his daily calorie intake from bananas, consuming up to 150 yellow fruits every week. Despite doctors' warnings, the young "fruitarian" claims that the banana-heavy diet provides "amazing health, endless energy and fantastic all-round well-being." Dane embraced the vegan lifestyle two years ago, as a way to solve his acne problem. He tried vegetarianism, but after doing some research, he decided that going raw was the way to go. For about half a year, Nash has been on a raw-only diet, with only a few slip-ups, like the occasional cooked rice. He gets most of his nutrients from ample quantities of bananas, mixes with lots of spinach and other leafy vegetables, as well as berries in the lunch and a big salad in the evening. Although they make up around 80% of his daily calorie intake, Dane Nash also supplements his diet with Vitamin B12 and Vitamin D, as well as spirulina, which he claims contains very nutrient that the body needs.

Ganesha idols: MCC must act

Sir,

As Ganesha festival is fast approaching, the city footpaths are dotted with huge idols of Lord Ganesha (of different colours made out of clay and Plaster of Paris). These idols are invariably coated with oil paints and metal paints which are very rich in heavy metals by chemical composition. Idols made out of PoP are a menace since it doesn't dissolve easily in water and releases different kinds of poisonous substances, which would be harmful to aquatic animals.

The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC), since the beginning has been cautioning all the idol-makers and vendors to sell only clay idols with no oil or metal paint. However, as far as the implementation of the rule is concerned, the MCC has not been serious. This casual attitude of MCC is allowing these vendors to boldly continue sale of PoP idols. Hence, MCC must mercilessly seize all such idols that do not conform to the recommended standards as per Pollution Control Board regulations.

Even people of Mysuru and surrounding places must boycott this kind of idols; otherwise our future generation may have to pay heavily for the blunder committed by us.

Introduce ECS mode of payment for electricity, water bills

Sir,

At present Electronic Clearing System (ECS) mode of payment is not available for Mysuru citizens to pay their monthly electricity and water bills. These Departments have opened many counters across the city to ensure that the waiting time for remitting bills by consumers are reduced.

However, if the ECS is introduced by these Departments, it will reduce their workload/manpower besides facilitating public from noting down the monthly dates in their diaries. This facility is familiar in Bengaluru and they encourage the use of ECS by offering nominal discount on monthly billing.

When these Departments are honestly trying to improve their image/functioning, an attempt can be made in this direction. I am sure, this will be appreciated by majority of Mysureans and gradually the respective Departments can reduce the manpower also. The only condition for the people opting for this facility is that they have to maintain sufficient balance to meet the bill amount on the due dates.

GUJARAT RAJYA SABHA SEAT

Ahmed Patel wins after midnight high-drama

Ahmed Patel

Amit Shah

Smriti Irani

Gandhinagar, Aug. 9- Congress leader Ahmed Patel snatched a late night victory in the Gujarat Rajya Sabha elections after the Election Commission rejected the votes of two Congress rebel Legislators.

Patel, the powerful Political Secretary of Congress President Sonia Gandhi, won by the skin of his teeth.

He needed 44 votes to win and he got 44, returning to the Rajya Sabha from Gujarat for a fifth term in a bitterly fought election that became a massive prestige battle between the Congress and the BJP.

The other two seats have been won easily by BJP Chief Amit Shah, who makes his debut in Parliament, and Union Minister Smriti Irani.

Amit Shah and Smriti Irani got 46 votes each. "Satyameva Jayate (the truth shall prevail)," Ahmed Patel tweeted a little before 2 am, announcing his win.

Hours before, the Congress had taken the Gujarat battle to Delhi, petitioning the Election Commission to disqualify the votes of two party MLAs who showed their ballot papers to the BJP's representatives. After watching a video of the vote and several hours of deliberation, the poll panel said they had violated secrecy.

Ahmed Patel's win was the best news the Congress has had in a long while and party workers engaged in frenzied celebration in Gandhinagar.

Congress president Sonia Gandhi told reporters: "Thank God for the Election Commission." "I am happy and relieved with his victory," Gandhi said, admitting that there was "so much tension."

Judge who ruled compulsory National Anthem in theatres will be next CJI

Dipak Misra

New Delhi, Aug. 9- The Union Government yesterday appointed Justice Dipak Misra as the next Chief Justice of India (CJI). He will be replacing incumbent Justice J.S. Khehar, who is set to retire on Aug. 27.

It was Khehar who had recommended Misra's name to succeed him as the next CJI. Justice Misra will be sworn in as the 45th Chief Justice of India by President Ram Nath Kovind on Aug. 27.

The 63-year-old CJI-designate is the senior-most Judge of the Supreme Court after Justice Khehar. He will be the third person from Odisha to be appointed the Chief Justice of India, after Justices Ranganath Misra (Dipak Misra's uncle) and G.B. Pattanaik. Justice Misra will retire on Oct. 2, 2018.

Misra had led the Bench that upheld the death sentence awarded to the four convicts in the Nirbhaya rape case and he was part of the Bench that rejected the 1993 Mumbai serial blasts convict Yakub Memon's appeal against execution. Later, he received an anonymous death threat for rejecting Memon's plea.

He was part of the Bench that upheld the Constitutional validity of criminal defamation provisions in the IPC. It said these did not muzzle free speech and asked the petitioners — which included Rahul Gandhi, Subramanian Swamy and Arvind Kejriwal — to face trial. He was also part of the Bench that is hearing Cauvery issue along with Justice Amitava Roy and A.M. Khanwilkar.

Justice Misra was part of the Bench that rejected the Uttar Pradesh Government's decision to provide reservation in promotion.

The Bench upheld the Allahabad High Court judgement that reservation in promotions can be provided only if there is sufficient data and evidence to justify it.

Justice Misra was part of the Bench that ordered playing of the National Anthem in the beginning of a film in theatres.

He is part of the three-Judge Bench with Justices Ashok Bhushan and S.A. Nazeer constituted by Chief Justice J.S. Khehar to hear a batch of petitions challenging the Allahabad High Court verdict in the Ayodhya land dispute case.

Mysuru, Aug. 9 (KS)- The City Crime Branch (CCB) Police, acting on a tip off that some persons were indulging in horse betting outside Mysore Race Course premises, raided the place on Aug. 7, and have arrested nine persons, besides seizing Rs. 1,71,900 cash, race books and other materials from them.

Mysuru City Corporation's drive against illegal water connections continues

Mysuru, Aug. 9 (RK&DM)- The Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) drive to identify illegal water connections in the city and also collect outstanding water bill, entered the third day today.

The authorities undertaking the drive in Wards 14, 20, 55 and 56 yesterday.

Speaking to SOM, Vani Vilas Water Works (VVWW) Executive Engineer Anand said that there were 1,66,000 legal water connections in the city, with around 19,000 of them being defunct for various reasons.

It has also been found that there were more than 20,000 unauthorised connections and the MCC has launched the drive to legalise these connections and also recover due from water tax defaulters.

Pointing out that spot legalisation will be made if the house owners paid a sum of Rs. 3,115, Anand said that the economically-weaker sections can pay this sum in six instalments. The MCC will get an additional annual revenue of Rs. 6 crore if all the illegal connections are legalised, he said and added that however, water meters should be installed by the house owners themselves at their own cost.

Anand further said that two teams are taking part in the drive involving AEE Harshita, AEs Vinay Kumar, Prasanna, Kempegowda and other staff.

'Minchina Sanchara' to keep a hawk's eye on teachers

Mysuru, Aug. 9- It will not be an easy task anymore for teachers working in Government Schools in Mysuru district. The Department of Public Instructions has decided to launch 'Minchina Sanchara' to keep a hawk's eye on the teaching faculties deputed in various Government Schools in order to access the teaching quality.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, DDPI Dr. B.K.S. Vardhan (in pic) said that similar experiment was executed successfully in Chitradurga where he served as the DDPI and added that it would be launched in Mysuru soon after the Independence Day celebrations.

'Minchina Sanchara' features 20 teams comprising three members including a BEO in each team, which will make surprise visits to the School to check on various issues including the quality of teaching, punctuality of teachers, distribution of mid-day meals and implementation of Government schemes and others.

The team will stay in the School the entire day and make note of the lacunae and later hold a meeting with the teachers to inform them about the changes to be brought in the School. These teams will also report to the higher authorities if teachers are found guilty of not executing their works. They will also have the power to initiate necessary action against such teachers.

Currently there are around 1,911 Govt. Primary Schools and 232 High Schools in Mysuru district in which a total of 8,931 teachers are working.

Pet Talk

Maneka Gandhi

In this week's Pet Talk, Maneka explains why Gau Mutra (Cow's urine) is considered to be pure and healthy?

Is milking painful for cows, goats and sheep?

In natural conditions, the udder would never get to the point where it was painful because the calf would drink the milk at regular intervals. But in commercial dairies, the calves are killed and the milk taken out manually. Normally there is a specific time when the milk is taken out, but if it is not, then it accumulates to the point where the udder gets so full it's almost ready to burst and becomes quite painful. Milking relieves that pain but only if it is done gently and with clean and soft hands. But what can be really painful with milking for a cow, goat, or sheep is, if they have mastitis, which is a bacterial infection of the udder. A large number of cows, goats and sheep get it. Most dairies don't care and they carry on milking. The milk then has a lot of bacteria and blood in it.

Why is it fine with people when cows or goats die, but they get really upset if a dog dies?

People have just become desensitised to their deaths because it is normal to see them as food. To some people the thought of eating a cow is abhorrent and to others the thought of eating a dog is not a big deal at all. Dogs are seen as family members, friends and loyal companions and so their killing is seen as the killing of a partly human being.

Pigs are just as intelligent and can make just as good pets as dogs but we have never given them a chance. And because each slaughterhouse is a tightly guarded secret place, we refuse to see the reality: That pigs are crammed into tiny, inhumane gestation crates where they cannot even turn around for months at a time during pregnancy. They are electrocuted, stabbed and hit with iron rods multiple times till they die and are packaged as your morning breakfast.

Do the pigs deserve gestation crates? Do the chickens deserve to be pumped full of hormones? Do male chicks deserve to be tossed into meat grinders right after hatching because they won't lay eggs? Dying is the last stage in the torture we regularly subject animals to.

None of these animals deserve to be treated the way they are. There are a thousand hypocrisies in the way we view and treat animals but we don't want our ways challenged. And when they are, we resort to excuses and justifications.

Cows and goats don't need to die. Humans survive without eating any meat or dairy products. Not only survive but thrive, with health benefits to boot. When we understand that certain species have personalities and intelligence and emotions, we tend to personalise them and we tend to frown upon their harm (dolphins, dogs, elephants) and when we realise an animal tastes good, or can be used as a product, we tend to dismiss their individuality and rationalise their death. There isn't any objective reason behind it other than the norms of the cultures we live in.

Why is Gau Mutra (Cow's urine) considered to be pure and healthy?

Gau Mutra refers to the usage of cow urine for therapeutic purposes in traditional Indian medicine, Ayurveda. It is also used in Vaastu Shastra for purification purposes. Gau Mutra is also an important component of the mixture called Panchagavya, also used in Ayurveda. Urine of a pregnant cow is considered special and it is claimed that it contains special hormones and minerals.

Gau Mutra has anti-cancer, anti-bacterial, anti-fungal and antioxidant properties. Ancient Hindu wisdom on the medicinal properties of cow urine is borne out by two patents granted in the US for cow urine distillate.

Even China has granted the distillate a patent as a DNA protector. A global patent has been granted for cow urine, neem and garlic as a pest repellent and for fungicidal and growth promotion.

It has immune-modulator properties, which makes it useful for immune deficiency diseases.

Manufacture, sale of PoP, chemically coloured Ganesha idols banned: DC

Mysuru, Aug. 9 (PM&NNN)- The Gowri-Ganesha festival is fast approaching (Aug.24 - 25) and the District Administration is making all efforts to ban the manufacture and sale of Ganesha idols made of Plaster of Paris (PoP) and chemically-coloured idols.

D. Randeep

Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep, who chaired a meeting here yesterday at his office, warned that stringent action will be taken against those who manufacture or sell idols made out of PoP, in spite of the ban.

He directed the officials to take action as per law if they found anyone installing the idols of Ganesha made of PoP. He also said that such idols should not be immersed in lakes or ponds as it pollutes the water bodies. He referred to the circular issued by Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) that last year there were many who had installed PoP Ganeshas and they had all been warned not to repeat it this year.

Mobile tanks

Randeep said that many voluntary organisations are trying to create awareness about the harmful effects of PoP and chemical-laden coloured Ganesha idols to the environment and advising them to use clay to make Gowri-Ganesha idols. Hence, the District Administration was also coming forward to join hands with such environmentalists and planning for mobile tankers to immerse the idols.

The mobile tankers will be stationed at important junctions in the city so that people who want to immerse the idols can make us of the mobile tankers.

KSPCB Environmental Officer B. M. Prakash said that the guidelines for idol immersion had been framed by the Central Pollution Control Board and also the National Green Tribunal had ordered the ban of immersion of PoP idols in water bodies. The reason for the pollution of rivers and lakes has been found to be due to immersion of such idols during Ganesha and other festivals. Hence, the KSPCB has given directions to the District Administration in all the districts to strictly follow the guidelines and take prompt action against the violators.

MCC Health Officer Dr. Ramachandra said that they had issued a notice in March itself against the use of PoP and coloured Ganesha idols and instructions have been issued to every Zonal Office to take action against those who install idols made out of PoPs and if found, confiscate them.

Mysore Grahakara Parishat Secretary M.M. Shenoi said that awareness must be created regarding the harmful environmental effects of PoP idols and added that committees must be constituted to take the message to the people.

Environmentalist Prof. K.M. Jayaramaiah said that everyone must be made aware of the damage to the environment by the use of PoP idols.

A few of the sellers who were present at the meeting assured that they were not selling the PoP idols anymore. However, they said that in Bengaluru it continued to be sold. The DC said that he would check about it.

They also said that at the check posts the idols from other States were being allowed without being checked because they felt that as they were idols they should be allowed freely.

Idol-makers breathe free

The banning of PoP idols has come as a big relief to genuine clay idol-makers of Ganesha and Gowri as clay is more environment friendly. "The demand for colourless Ganeshas has increased by more than 20 per cent after the ban on PoP idols. Generations of our families have been involved in making clay idols and it comes as a big relief that the government has imposed a ban on such idols," said environmentalist and clay idol-maker for decades D. Revanna, a resident of Kumbarageri.

Bulls and Titans play out a thrilling draw

Nagpur, Aug. 9- With two of the biggest superstars of kabaddi, Rohit Kumar and Rahul Chaudhari locking horns on the mat at the Mankapur Indoor Stadium, fans anticipated the match to be a cracker on Tuesday evening. The Bulls and the Titans had entered the match in the wake of two and five consecutive defeats respectively, and with the sole aim to get back to winning ways.

Rohit won the toss for Bengaluru Bulls and chose his team's side of the mat. Chaudhari and Ajay Kumar opened for the Titans and the Bulls respectively but both the raids ended empty. Nilesh Salunke picked up the first point of the match through a bonus for the Titans, while Rohit picked the first for his team through a touch. The 7th minute saw the first do-or-die raid of the match which Chaudhari accomplished easily for his team.

Tenth minute of the game and the scoreline read a mere 4-4! A small injury scare occurred in the 16th minute when Ravinder Pahal tried to tackle Chaudhari and both got injured in the process.

While Pahal had to resort to the ice pack, the magic spray was enough to revive Chaudhari. The low-scoring half ended with the Titans asking for a review which ended unsuccessfully and the scoreline read 9-8 in the home team's favour.

Rohit and Salunke started the proceedings for their teams in the second half but nothing came of their efforts. The 23rd-minute brought in the first All-Out of the match as the Titans were ousted completely by a Pahal tackle. Soon Rakshith and Mohsen Maghsoudlou entered as substitutes for the Titans to bolster the attack. A series of do-or-die raids shortly after, the Bulls led by 20-15 and looked set to take away the match with just a couple of minutes to spare. The Titans, however, had other plans as they took 5 quick points within a minute to tie the score at 20-20, that included 2 touch points each from Rakshith and Chaudhari and a tackle point from Rakesh Kumar.

It all rested on Raid Machine Chaudhari to go for the last raid of the match with just two defenders in the opponent box and win it for his team. He, however, miscalculated thinking the team needed just a single point to win and came out with just one raid point, not considering the bonus point Ashish Kumar had taken in the previous raid for the Bulls. The match ended tied at 21-21 with both teams picking up 3 points each.

Forest Dept. evicts ex-Kerala DGP's wife from Kodagu reserve forest

Daisy Jacob had occupied 151.03 acres in Kopattimalai near Bhagamandala since 27 years

Mysuru, Aug. 9- The Karnataka Forest Department has taken back a part of the reserve forest near Sampaje-Bhagamandala in Kodagu district occupied by Daisy Jacob, the wife of former Kerala Director General of Police (DGP) Jacob Thomas. The property extends up to 151.03 acres in Kopattimalai and is now worth Rs. 18.12 crore.

A team of Madikeri Divisional Forest Officer Suryasena visited the forest land yesterday along with 30 Forest Department officials and over 20 personnel from the Rapid Action Force conducted the eviction drive. Daisy held the property for over 27 years and the land was part of Pattighat range at Kopatti village near Bhagamandala.

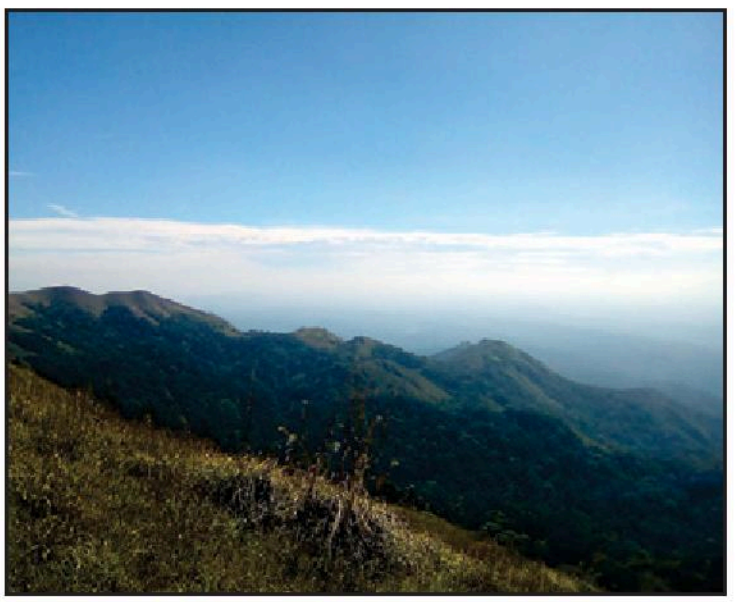
Sampaje Range Forest Officer had filed a case that she had occupied land belonging to the Department and Daisy had appealed to the Assistant Conservator of Forests Court in Madikeri. The appeal was rejected and the Court had issued an order asking her to vacate 151.03 acres which was part of the reserve forest. Daisy then appealed to the Court of Manoj Kumar, Chief Conservator of Forests (CCF), Kodagu. The CCF, before his recent transfer, upheld the order on July 7.

As per Daisy's property statement submitted to the Ministry of Home Affairs (MHA) on January 1, 2017, the land was purchased in Daisy's name in 1990 when the land value was Rs. 15 lakh. Also, the property, used for horticulture, generates revenue of Rs. 35 lakh annually.

In his order issued in November last year, Madikeri ACF Ranganath gave a month's time to Daisy Jacob to prove her claim on the land, which she owned since 1991. The incident came to light after a forest survey conducted by the Department revealed that the 151 acres was part of the reserve forest since 1901. The survey was carried out as per the direction of the High Court in 2003.

The ACF's eviction order was issued under Section 64A of the Karnataka Forests Act, 1963 as it has been notified as reserve forest in 1904 itself. The issue went through multiple legal processes before the Forest Department finally concluded that the title holder (Daisy) had encroached on forest land.

The legal battle regarding the ownership of the land began in September 1999, with the issue being examined by the Karnataka High Court. Daisy Jacob, however, maintained that she had purchased the land from Hanuman Tobacco Company and has all the necessary documents to prove her ownership, including Sale Deeds.



Kopattimalai or the Kopatti Hills is one of the very few forest areas in Western Ghats that has dense jungles, water streams, outspread meadow and lush green grassland that have not yet been exploited by human greed. It is at this range, former Kerala DGP's wife Daisy Jacob had occupied 151.03 acres which has now been reclaimed by the Forest Department.

Tribal Status for Kodavas: CNC stages Satyagraha

Madikeri, Aug. 9- Members of Codava National Council (CNC) staged a Satyagraha at the Kodagu Deputy Commissioner's office in Madikeri this morning demanding tribal status for Kodavas. The protest was organised as part of "World Indigenous people's Day" and was led by CNC President N.U. Nachappa.

In a memorandum addressed to President Ram Nath Kovind, Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Rajnath Singh, Minister of State for Home Affairs Kiron Rijju and Karnataka Governor Vajubhai Rudabhai Vala, the CNC has demanded that the Kodava community must be included as Codava Martial Tribal Race and the community must be accorded tribal status under Articles 340 and 342 of Indian Constitution.

"With a solitary intention of protecting our land and acquire all such amenities as employment, education and financial reservations and the like, we are determined to advance our claim for being included in the tribal list," the memorandum stated.

In addition, the CNC has demanded to include Kodava language in the 8th Schedule of Indian Constitution.

"Kodava race must be globally recognised on par with Jews, Parsis, Sindhi, Yezdi, Kurdi, Baloch and Pastun, etc. Provisions of Article 371 of our Constitution with inner line permit should be made applicable to Kodagu region as has been done in relation to Manipur and other North Eastern States," the memorandum stated.

Police book petty case against youth who tore Traffic ASI's uniform !

ASI Padmanabha

"I have directed the Deputy Commissioner of Police to book a case against the youth who had assaulted the duty-bound ASI. I also have learnt that the youth had given an apology letter. It is not a light matter and a case will be booked against the youth."

—Dr. A Subrahmanyeswara Rao, City Police Commissioner, Mysuru

Mysuru, Aug. 9- The Nazarbad Police has lodged a petty case on the person who allegedly assaulted a duty-bound Assistant Sub-Inspector (ASI) of Police yesterday at Maharana Pratap Singhji Circle near Race Course. The incident has surprised many as somebody could easily get away after assaulting a Cop.

It may be mentioned here that Star of Mysore had published a news item along with photograph yesterday on the incident where Siddarthanagar Traffic ASI Padmanabha was allegedly assaulted by 24-year-old Manish, son of Mansoor Karan, a resident of Ashoka Road in Lashkar Mohalla.

Padmanabha was checking two-wheeler riders without helmet at Maharana Pratap Singhji Circle near Karanji Gate and stopped Manish at around 12 noon who was riding his bullet bike (KA-55 R-0817) without a helmet and who was also triple riding. Seeing the Police, Manish took a U turn. While Manish's bike skidded, his friends managed to escape.

Manish was immediately surrounded by ASI Padmanabha and team. Taking objection to this, Manish got into a verbal spat with Padmanabha. Taking the names of influential persons and politicians, Manish told the Cops to repair the road first and then check for helmet-less riding. When the Police booked him for helmet-less and triple riding, Manish allegedly pulled the ASI's white uniform shirt and ripped it apart.

Manish later went to Nazarbad Police Station and complained that ASI Padmanabha had harassed him.

Padmanabha too reached the Police Station and told Inspector Shekar that Manish misbehaved with him. Hearing both sides, a petty case (disturbing public peace and creating nuisance) was booked against Manish and he was let off in the evening. The Police have seized Manish's motorbike.

Though the incident happened in full public view, the Police have booked a petty case and have let off the person who tore the Police uniform.

Surprisingly, the ASI has said that the buttons in his uniform shirt gave away as there were a lot of people in the area when the incident happened and he had to squeeze between the crowd.

ASI denies assault

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Padmanabha denied that his shirt was ripped apart by Manish. "Yes, there were some arguments when his bullet bike was stopped and he took the names of influential people. Later, Manish's sister and other family members came to Nazarbad Police Station and claimed that Manish was mentally disturbed. They even produced certificates to substantiate their claims," he said.

Padmanabha said that he had pressed for a "public nuisance" case as the family members had pleaded him and Manish's disturbed condition. He added that Manish had given them an apology letter.

Man sentenced to life for murder

Mysuru, Aug.9- A City Court has sentenced a man to life imprisonment besides imposing a penalty of Rs. 5,000 on him for brutally killing his friend following a dispute over sharing of labour wages.

Vijay alias Viji is the one who has been sentenced. Labourer couple Mary Regina and her husband Raja stayed at a shed adjoining a cement godown in Vande Mataram Nagar. The couple, after finishing work on Aug. 8, 2013, were engaged in a conversation in front of their shed, when Vijay visited the house and picked up a quarrel over sharing of wages.

Following heated exchanges, Vijay, in a fit of rage, pushed down Raja and brutally smashed his head with a brick killing him on the spot. Vijay had also threatened Raja's wife Mary Regina if she reported the matter.

The jurisdictional Mandi Police, who registered a case in this regard, arrested Vijay who had gone absconding and filed charge-sheet against him.

The fourth Additional District and Sessions Court Judge N. Krishnaiah, who heard the case, convicted Vijay of the charges and sentenced him to life imprisonment. Public Prosecutor H.M. Raghu Kumar argued on behalf of the State.
